

Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election is a clear example of the dangers of media consolidation. I am shocked that something like this will be aired just before the election, so obviously in the interest of approximately only half of our great nation.

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. Please be sure Sinclair does so by requiring them to either not run "Stolen Honor", or at the absolute very least, run something positive in as prominent a time slot like "Going Upriver". Thank You
